2 Nazis Charged In Rome Massacre

ROME (AP)—Two German generals pleaded innocent today before a British military court in Rome to charges that they had ordered the reprisal massacre of 333 Italians in Rome's Ardeatine caves two months before the Allied liberation of the capital.

The defendants, Col. Gen. Eberhard von Mackensen and Lt. Gen. Kurt Maeltzer, are accused of putting the Italians to death in revenge for the killing of 32 Nazi SS troops who were ambushed.

Col. R. C. Halse, chief prosecutor, said both the defendants had made statements that the killings were done as a reprisal, and that Von Mackensen had assumed full responsibility for issuing the order.

POSTPONE CRICKET
SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter)—The cricket match between New South Wales and the touring M.C.C. was postponed again today because of rain.

The match opened last Friday, but was postponed after 2½ hours' play and has not been resumed. On the first day of the four-day match, New South Wales scored 97 runs for four wickets.

Bombers Not Used

LONDON (Reuter)—Air bombing in communal riot-torn centres in India will be considered only in "most exceptional cases," Arthur Henderson, Under-Secretary for India, said in the House of Commons today.

He added, however, that his department chief, Lord Pethick-Lawrence, was not prepared to give an assurance that such bombing would be in no circumstances be resorted to.

Ford Of Canada

WINDSOR, Ont.—The Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd., lost $1,700,000 in the first nine months of 1946 and expects to lose $2,000,000 during the year, the company said today in a letter sent to shareholders.

Douglas B. Greig, president, said in the letter the loss was suffered despite the fact Ford made 60,545 cars and trucks during the nine months—50 per cent of the total of cars and trucks made in Canada. He added that increases in wages at Ford will add another $3,000,000 in labor costs during 1947.

Columbian Meeting Anti-Racial Fervor Dampened By Tear Gas Bomb

Tear gas bomb broke up Columbian meeting in Atlanta, Ga., and sent this woman into near hysterics.

The bomb was hurled through a window into the hall and 200 persons, who were listening to Emory Burke, president of the organization, give an anti-Semitic, anti-negro speech, were forced to flee. Several of those who attended the session are seen here wiping their eyes. Two men wearing red flash patch on shirts are Columbians.

Palestine Police Using Dogs To Run Down Terrorists

JERUSALEM (CP)—Police, using trained dogs, attempted today to trail attackers responsible for the death of an R.A.F. sergeant and four British police officers who were killed Sunday night when the truck in which they were riding was blasted by a mine on the outskirts of Tel Aviv.

Six other policemen were critically injured in the explosion. Reports from the scene said the mine, placed in the middle of a street in a sparsely-settled residential district, apparently was electrically controlled.

The blast shattered windows in houses within a radius of two blocks and caused panic among residents in the area.

Earlier the government had announced that a British officer was killed and a soldier was injured while attempting to neutralize a mine in the Haifa area near Kfar Sirkin.

The same announcement disclosed that a freight train had been slightly damaged by a mine explosion near Rehovot, south of Tel Aviv.

In London, Scotland Yard officials revealed they had strengthened guards at all government buildings against possible attack by Jewish extremists, following receipt of an anonymous warning. A previous message had threatened the life of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

Manchester Tied Up By Transport Strike

MANCHESTER (Reuter)—Thousands of Manchester workers walked in rain today as much as seven to eight miles to their jobs as the full effects of an unofficial strike of transport workers which has deprived the city of all public road services became felt. Many workers refused to turn out and stayed at home for the day.

Managers of some of the largest factories in the area described the effect on production as "very serious."

At Trafford Park, great industrial area on the outskirts of Manchester, it was estimated half the 50,000 workers employed at the various factories were either absent or very late today.

The stoppage, which began Saturday after the dismissal for alleged dangerous driving of driver Christie S. Christie, involves between 5,000 and 6,000 men.

Big 5 Ministers Adjourn; No Decision Of Veto So Far

NEW YORK (CP)—A Big Five conference on the United Nations' Security Council veto adjourned this afternoon after three hours of debate which brought no conclusive results.

Top-ranking leaders of the five permanent members of the Security Council met at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, each with two advisers, in a strictly private effort to meet the protests of small and middle powers against excessive use of the veto.

Present were Foreign Secretary Bevin of the United Kingdom, State Secretary Byrnes of the United States, Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, Dr. Wellington Koo, permanent U.N. delegate for China, and Alexandre Parodi, France's permanent delegate.

The Big Five were reported to have discussed a number of proposals on which there was hope of agreement, looking toward curtailment of the use of the veto.

It was reported that Mr. Molotov contended there had been no abuse of the veto and that the protest against it had been an artificial agitation stirred up by China and Australia, possibly at the instigation of other delegations which he did not name.

Russia has used the veto nine times and France once — the latter on a technical point during a debate on Spain.

9 Die In Fire

ROME (AP)—Nine persons, including four nuns and a priest, were killed in a panic resulting from a small blaze caused by a short circuit during a symphony concert at a parochial school in Naples Sunday night. The casualties resulted from suffocation and trampling.

No British Plans To Make A-Bombs, Says London Paper

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express today said no atomic bombs are being made in Britain and the government has no immediate plans to make them. The newspaper said it understood "military strategists" are discounting the possibility of any atomic weapons in the country's arsenal within the next five years.

The Express said that two factors are holding up development of atomic energy for military purposes:

"1. Hope that an international agreement will make the manufacture of atom bombs unnecessary.

"2. The complete secrecy maintained by the United States government on the method of making the plutonium explosive used in the atom bombs of Nagasaki and Bikini."

Students Demand Sidky Pasha Resign

CAIRO (AP)—Several thousand students from Fuad I University paraded through the streets today shouting "Down With Imperialism" and demanding the resignation of Premier Ismail Sidky Pasha's government.

Before police could disperse the crowd the students set fire to three streetcars. Later they stoned police from the roof of the medical school.

The students have been critical of the Premier's policy during current negotiations for revision of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Star Wants Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Laraine Day Sunday announced that she and her husband, former singer Ray Hendricks, had separated and that she would file for a divorce here soon. They were married in May, 1942, and have three adopted children.

Mainland Forces Probe 2 Clues To Missing Boy

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today investigated two diametrically opposed clues in the search for the shotgun slayer of 39-year-old Robert F. Tepoorjen at Woodlands, near Deep Cove, B.C., last Thursday.

One report under careful investigation was that an 18-year-old youth, Donald Russell, of North Vancouver, sought in connection with the shooting, had been seen here late Saturday.

Another clue indicated that Russell may be beating his way east, based on a report that he was seen in Coquitlam, B.C. Saturday night.

William Ferry claimed he saw a man answering Russell's description knocked at the door of a house there and asked for food. He refused to enter the house.

"Just give me a couple of apples, I'm in a hurry," he was reported to have told a 10-year-old boy who answered the door.

Police today expressed an opinion that the wintry weather may force Russell into the open if he is in hiding in the country.

"We're hoping the snow will beat him in," said Sgt. Tom Hertz, man of the North Vancouver provincial police, in charge of the search.

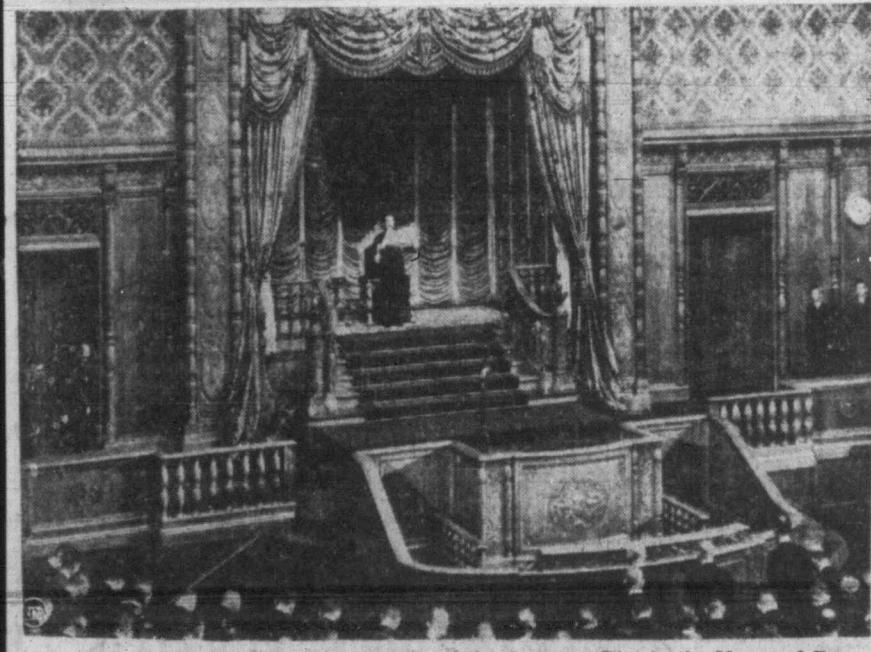

Russell was lightly clad when he disappeared after the shooting.

Meanwhile, all police throughout British Columbia and as far east as Calgary and Edmonton have been asked to keep a lookout.

Atheist Wins Right To Broadcast In U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert Harold Scott of San Francisco, who billed his program "An Atheist Speaks," fulfilled a five-year ambition Sunday and in a radio broadcast told northern Californians why he believes there is no God.

Radio Station KWQ, which asked its listeners to write in any reaction—instead of telephoning—reported nonetheless that it received a good-sized number of complaints.

Mr. Scott waged a five-year battle to get on the air, climaxing his campaign by winning a Federal Communications Commission that he could have his say.

As far as was known here, Mr. Scott's speech was the first purely atheistic program ever broadcast in this country.

N. A. (Tony) Hutton, who served seven years as skipper- lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy and saw service both in the Atlantic and the Pacific, and was in H.M.C.S. Prince Robert at the occupation of Hongkong, has recently been demobilized and has been appointed special agent for Vancouver Island for the Continental Casualty Co.

Every new Wage Earner

... should answer these questions:

How MANY "earning years" are you looking forward to? Right now you take pleasure and pride in that job of yours! But later in life, retirement is going to seem pretty attractive too. Years slip by quickly. You should, accordingly, save through Mutual Life of Canada insurance which will provide for your retirement and protect your dependents.

Does it matter WHICH life insurance company you choose? Yes! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of our policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life of Canada, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

Sealing Veteran Of B.C. Coast Passes

LATE CHARLES AXHORN

Charles Axhorn, one of the last surviving seal hunters of the B.C. coast, and a resident of Victoria for many years, died in New Westminster Saturday at the age of 73.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Axhorn, he was born at Tiverton, Devonshire, England, on June 19, 1873, and came to Victoria 54 years ago to join his brother, Ben Axhorn, who was already engaged in seal hunting on the Pacific.

For years he went seal hunting aboard the Agnes McDonald, sailing between Victoria and Yokohama, Japan, until the field was practically exhausted. He later joined in the gold rush to the Yukon, returning to England after that and before the outbreak of World War I.

Enlisting with the Royal Engineers in 1914, he served in France and attained the rank of sergeant-major.

He later returned to Victoria and, in 1925, was appointed inspector of dredging operations undertaken by the Pacific Construction Co., at the same time taking part in work on the Esquimalt drydock.

In 1933, he was appointed chief janitor at the Parliament Buildings and held that position until his retirement in August, 1944.

He was twice married, first to Miss Maud Jarman, who predeceased him 11 years ago, and the second time to Miss Sue Harrigan, who now survives him at 720, 4th Street, New Westminster. Besides his widow, there survive one son, Cyril P. Axhorn, 1725 Fairfield Road; two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Harold Coleman, London, England; a niece, Mrs. J. Jones; a nephew, Fred Bennett, Victoria, and two nephews in Vancouver.

The funeral service will be held in the funeral parlors of S. J. Curry and Son at 2 Wednesday afternoon. Burial will take place at Colwood.

Expect Completion Of Vets' Hospital By End Of February

The 220-bed Veterans' Hospital, facing on Richmond Avenue north of Royal Jubilee Hospital, is expected to be completed by the end of February, Maj. Stan Okell, district administrator of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, reported today.

Maj. Okell pointed out that shortage of materials had hindered progress on the construction "but under the circumstances the project is going ahead as well as possible."

Will Take 2 Years For Linen Supply To Meet Demand

In the opinion of Belfast manufacturers, it will take another two years before the supply of linen will meet the world-wide demand, according to W. Lytle, British Empire representative of the York Street Flax Spinning Co., world's largest linen manufacturers.

Today, it is not a case of selling linen, but of distributing it, said Mr. Lytle, now at the Empress Hotel.

He outlined the present difficulties faced by linen manufacturers in producing to meet demand. His own company was bombed during the war. Damage amounted to £3,000,000. The bombs destroyed 2,000 looms and 40,000 spindles.

The firm is now rebuilding and, at the present time, have nearly 800 looms in operation. Looms are hard to get, Mr. Lytle said, and the company has already had to wait one and a half years to get the looms it now has.

To add to the problem, the demand for linen is now much greater than before the war. This is caused, to a great extent, to the fact linen was used mainly for war purposes and the manufacturers are now faced with meeting a demand which accumulated through the war years. At present, only 25 to 30 per cent of the demand is being met.

Although lack of strikes has helped production, this has been offset to a certain extent by absenteeism which averages 25 per cent in the linen industry. Workers only work so many hours a week so their wages do not take them into another income bracket.

Rationing also plays its part. When scarce commodities, such as oranges, reach Belfast, workers stay away from the mills in order to obtain their share of the rationed goods.

Turning to another industry for which Belfast is famous—that of shipbuilding—Mr. Lytle said the Harland and Wolff yards were employing 35,000 men at the present time and had sufficient contracts to keep the yards busy for another five years, at least.

Traveling Printer Is Roaming Again

His world traveling jaunts, halted during the war years, "Chaplin" Floyd, roving linotype operator is on the move again. Floyd has traveled the world several times, plying his trade in hundreds of different cities. His longest stay for many years was in Victoria during the war. Latest word from him was from Auckland, New Zealand and his next destination will be Pitcairn Island of "Mutiny on the Bounty" fame. Of New Zealand he says, "Postwar conditions have had an unsettling effect on this country, prices being very high."

Seek Hit-Run Driver In New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Police are searching today for the driver of a car who Sunday ploughed into six youngsters on the River Road, crashed into a telephone pole and careened wildly away.

Three children are in hospital here—one seriously injured—as a result of hit-and-run driving. Most seriously injured is 10-year-old Arnold Nelson. In hospital with a badly cut forehead,

THE THINGS THAT MONEY CAN'T BUY

HEALTH; A HAPPY HOME; opportunity for your children; your own peace of mind
—these are priceless gifts. You can't buy them with money.

But reasonable financial security, based on a planned programme of personal saving, can help to guard and guarantee them.

Take your Victory Bonds, for example.
Pretty reassuring to have them tucked away as a financial reserve, always "on tap" in time of opportunity or need. Pretty convincing proof, too, that you really can save when there's a real saving job to be done.

Perhaps today's rising costs or other factors are making it hard for you to carry on your savings programme. By the time you have met all your expenses, perhaps there's mighty little left for that all-important item marked "Savings".

Try putting savings first, not last, on your budget list. Owe yourself a definite amount each month, and make sure you collect it. It means careful budgeting, and putting off buying a good many things you'd like to have. But never forget—this is your share of what you earn. This is the part of your income which will help to assure for yourself and your family all the things that money can't buy.

PERHAPS YOU are already one of the hundreds of thousands of thrifty Canadians who have a savings account with the Royal Bank. If not, we invite you to come in and open one. Perhaps your first deposit will have to be small; don't let that worry you.
The important thing is to start. It will be a pleasure to serve you.

Soft Coal Miners Already Quitting Despite Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defying the prospect of a government crack-down on John L. Lewis, thousands of soft coal miners in the United States today laid down their tools three days ahead of a deadline set by the United Mine Workers' chief.

As the walkouts spread, President Truman called for a showdown fight with Mr. Lewis and Attorney-General Tom Clark summoned aides to another emergency session to explore possible court action against the U.M.W. leader. It was the second such conference in as many days.

The Justice Department later announced Judge T. Allan Goldsborough had signed a temporary order designed to restrain the walkout.

The department said the order bars Mr. Lewis from terminating at Wednesday midnight his working contract with the government. A hearing on the preliminary request for a preliminary hearing to bar breach of

Father Foiled From Rescuing Wife, 6 Children

MADOC, Ont. (CP)—Ephraim Ray, 39-year-old truck driver, today said that red-hot sheet metal walls barred him from attempting to rescue his 30-year-old wife, Thelma, and their six young children who were burned to death early today in their two-story frame home.

Ray, an employee of the Reliance Fluorspar Company, was doing morning chores in his barn a short distance from the house when he heard a muffled explosion and dashed out to see flames shooting from the house.

The mother's body was found burned beyond recognition. The children who died with her were Doreen, 10; Douglas, 13; Allan, 9; Ella, 5; Dianne, 3; and Emerson, 1 year.

STARTED AT 6 A.M.

Temperature was 25 degrees above zero when Ray lighted a fire in the kitchen stove about 6 a.m. He said he left the damper open, expecting his wife would come downstairs in a few minutes and check the stove. Apparently, he said, she slept on and the stove became overheated.

Ray went to the barn to feed his cows, as soon as he stepped out of the barn he saw windows shatter as a second explosion shook the little dwelling on the outskirts of this Hastings County town of 1,100 population 29 miles north of Belleville.

He heard no sounds above the roar of the flames and concluded his wife had died in her bed upstairs with the baby and that the five other children who slept in one room downstairs had been suffocated.

Fuel Oil Price Up

OTTAWA (CP) — The Prices Board announced today British Columbia oil companies had been granted an increase of 15 cents a 35-gallon barrel in their maximum selling prices of heavy fuel oil used by railways, shipping companies and certain pulp and paper producers.

The board said the increase which will become effective tomorrow and does not affect the individual consumer, was based on higher costs of crude oil in California. The price per barrel varies in the different pricing zones in British Columbia.

NEW YORK (AP)—James J. (Jimmy) Walker, 65, Mayor of New York from 1925 to 1932, was critically ill in Doctors' Hospital today.

A bulletin issued today said "there is no improvement" in the condition of the former mayor. At that time he had been in a coma more than 26 hours.

Mr. Walker is suffering from cerebral thrombosis. His physician, Dr. S. Sym Newman, said his condition is "extremely grave."

Dead Flier's Hand On Plane Controls

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A dead flier's hand still grips the controls of the Western Airlines plane which crashed last Wednesday with 11 persons, including three Canadian women, aboard, against the snowy peak of White Mountain.

Deputy Sheriff Bolney Cummings, leader of a group which Sunday made an unsuccessful effort to recover the bodies, reported finding five badly-burned corpses inside the wreckage.

Island Gets First Snow And Colder Weather Due

Victoria and vicinity and the island generally got its first touch of winter today and Sunday, but weather forecast for the next 36 hours from William Burton, weatherman at Gonzales Hill Observatory, dashes children's hopes of real snowfall, although colder weather is predicted for tomorrow.

While the low ceiling caused by this morning's drizzles, which came in a changeover from rain around 8, masked the Sooke Hills, there is a liberal showing of snow on the hills.

For the most part the snow was of the liquid type in Greater Victoria and soon melted on meeting the ground and streets.

Many cars coming into town from the country, however, had heavy coatings of snow.

Mr. Burton's forecast predicted intermittent rain and snow today and tonight and cloudy Tuesday and becoming colder with light north and southwest winds.

The minimum temperature tonight is expected to read 31. The

Widow Identified 14 Hours After Death In Car Crash

Mrs. Ellen B. Payne, 62-year-old widow who lived alone at St. Helen's Apartments, 828 Courtney Street, was identified this morning as the victim of a fatal traffic accident 14 hours after she was struck by a car at Vancouver and Fort Streets at 7:45 Sunday evening.

Mrs. Payne was identified by William J. Clark, manager of the Dominion Hotel where she had been employed the last three years as a maid.

Police said the woman suffered mainly from head injuries. Her face was badly smashed.

An inquest has been ordered by Coroner E. C. Hart for Friday morning at 10. It will be held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlor where the remains were taken last night.

From the police reports, Gleave, with one passenger in his car, Harry Holmwood, 2502 Wark Street, was driving in an easterly direction on Fort Street when his car hit the woman.

She was reported to have been crossing Fort Street diagonally from the northwest corner at the Vancouver Street intersection. She was hit when approximately 40 feet west of the southwest corner.

She was wearing a light blue coat with light fur collar and a dark hat. She wore glasses and was medium in height and weight.

A son of the victim, E. J. Payne, resides on Colville Road, Esquimalt. He was notified of his mother's death by police immediately after her identification.

Attlee Denies British 'Alliance' With U.S.; Rebel Amendment Lost

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Attlee, rising to face a hostile faction of his own party, denied in the Commons today that Britain is "ganging up" with the United States against Russia.

"That is not true," he declared.

He told the House the British government stands for the United Nations and does not believe in the formation of groups or opposing groups of east, west or centre.

Mr. Attlee spoke during the opening stages of an important debate on foreign policy. The debate was forced when a group of 23 Labor Party "rebels" proposed an amendment to the reply to last week's Speech from the Throne which sharply criticized the administration's foreign policy.

Shortly after Mr. Attlee had spoken, Sidney Silverman, a leader of the rebels, said his group would abstain from voting on the amendment.

The House later defeated the policy amendment by a vote 353 to 0.

CO-OPERATION URGED

Amplifying a speech introduced in the day by Richard Crossman, Labor member for Coventry East, Mr. Silverman said the motion called on the government to recast its foreign policy to offer co-operation to all states striving for full socialist planning.

Mr. Attlee said Britain was not seeking an "exclusive alliance with the United States."

Mr. Crossman had charged that such an alliance existed in practice.

There were quite large questions on which both the United States and Russia disagreed with Britain, but members were wrong in believing there was a "ganging up," Mr. Attlee said.

Early in the debate, Mr. Crossman had charged that a formation of "a complete and exclusive Anglo-American tie-up" — as urged by Winston Churchill — had been followed by a steady split of the world into American

2nd Fierce Gale Hits Nome, Adding To Great Damage

NOME, Alaska (AP)—A second terrific winter gale struck Nome without warning Sunday, destroyed part of the city's winter food supply, wrecked its power plant and did heavy damage to waterfront buildings.

Towering waves whipped by a strong wind hurled sea ice against the rear of business buildings, whose shoreline bulkhead protection was swept away by a violent storm that cost two lives three weeks ago.

The gale abated during the night.

Still endangered today, however, was the concrete Merchants' Bank Building, being undermined by seas. Two small warehouses belonging to the Pelet Department Store, largest in the community, were washed away but rescue crews were able to salvage the merchandise.

Badly damaged were the Lomen commercial lightering equipment building and warehouse; a bar, theatre, bakery, city hall, fire station and two restaurants.

Lunan Guilty, Jailed 5 Years

OTTAWA (CP)—David Gordon Lunan, former Canadian information services officer, was convicted today by Judge A. G. McDougall of conspiring to communicate secret information to Russia and was sentenced today to five years' imprisonment.

Lunan's speedy trial before the judge alone ended Friday and Judge McDougall said he would announce his judgment today.

Lunan was said by the Royal Commission on Espionage to have been the leader of a group of Canadian agents operating in Ottawa for the Soviet-inspired espionage ring which had its headquarters in the Russian embassy here.

He was one of the original 13 persons detained last Feb. 15 when the spy inquiry was launched.

Given a chance to make a statement before sentence, was pronounced, Lunan told Judge McDougall, "I have only this to say in the greatest of respect... that I don't consider myself guilty of the charge either in law or in fact."

FOUR IMPORTANT POINTS

WHEN MR. HART GOES DOWN TO OTTAWA at the end of this week to discuss new taxation arrangements with the Dominion government—particularly with Minister of Finance Isley—his objective will be perfectly clear in his own mind. He expects to obtain a sensible agreement which will recognize the basic fact that British Columbia is a province operating in a class by itself. In the event of his failure to get the kind of compact he knows is essential to the future economic stability and progress of this part of Canada, particularly in respect of actual and potential revenue, he may be faced with the prospect of returning to the income tax field—surrendered by the provinces to the Dominion under the wartime taxation agreements. This would reintroduce the obnoxious system of dual imposts and dual collection; but the Premier would have no alternative if the provincial treasury is to be replenished in accordance with manifold current and prospective needs.

READY TO CO-OPERATE

REGARDLESS OF WHAT MANITOBA has evolved with the federal government, and notwithstanding the intentions of other provinces that are hoping to reach similar agreements, the fact remains that Mr. Hart, while ready and willing to go the limit in a co-operative effort, does not intend to retreat from the position he took in opposition to the first and second sets of proposals proffered by the Dominion. And since Mr. Isley did not consult the Premier before he introduced a new plan in the budget speech of last June—which is not surprising—any consideration of it will be out of the question until Mr. Hart reaches Ottawa. Since the details of the various conferences and the points of conflict already have received columns of publicity, it is not necessary to recapitulate here. Although it is fitting in view of the Premier's new mission to recount one of two of the more cogent reasons why British Columbia is unable to manifest any practical interest in what Manitoba has done or what other provinces may do.

WHAT THE FIGURES REVEAL

FOR EXAMPLE, IN THE FISCAL YEAR 1944 the Dominion government collected in various forms of taxation in British Columbia no less a sum than $137,000,000, about $136,000,000 in 1945, and for the current comparable period the amount is expected to be over the $100,000,000 mark. Under the wartime agreement of 1941, however, the province received from the Dominion an annual subsidy of a trifle more than $12,000,000. The best the federal government has proposed to recompense the province for another five years' vacation of the income and corporation tax field is a per capita grant that would amount to $18,000,000 annually. On the basis of provincial collections in 1941, on the other hand, the per capita grant which produced $12,000,000 as a wartime subsidy should have been set at least $17.50. British Columbia had no complaint on this account because its substantial accommodation to the national treasury was charged to this province's contribution to the war effort—an obligation willingly shouldered by the government and the people alike. But it will be recalled that the proposed $18,000,000 plan—150 per cent of the wartime agreement—from Mr. Isley is also predicated on the surrender of the annual statutory grant of $1,000,000, and the succession duties as well—in addition to the income and corporation taxes. In other words, British Columbia, if this offer were accepted, would be getting only about $3,500,000 more for the next five years than it received in the war period. With what, then, would the province have to finance those numerous and pressing undertakings upon which action had to be suspended because of emergent conditions? Add to these considerations the important fact that the Dominion has taken from this province a sum much greater than from the three prairie provinces combined, and almost as much as these and the three maritime provinces as well, and none will wonder why Manitoba thinks its agreement an excellent one. For that province will get approximately $12,000,000 annually—or about 33 per cent more than it contributed in wartime taxation to the Dominion.

AS TO THE FUTURE

OVER AND ABOVE THESE STATISTICAL computations of the past and the present, however, is the salient consideration which the federal Minister of Finance has not brought into accurate perspective. This is British Columbia's potential as a revenue producer in the field of development. The people of the province know that this part of Canada is the last great frontier, that its natural resources are unparalleled elsewhere in the Dominion, and that the unique physical structure with which Nature's designer endowed it preclude the application of a blanket formula for the provision of part of the wherewithal for essential development. Upon that development, moreover, depend to a very substantial extent the direct returns of the province—and indirectly those of the Dominion—the maintenance of necessary services, and a reconstruction program which permits of no further delay. Little of this will be feasible unless Mr. Hart succeeds in his mission to Ottawa—succeeds in reaching an agreement that he earnestly hopes will obviate the necessity of returning to dual taxation.

PLANNING

IN THESE COLUMNS ON FRIDAY WE referred to Plymouth's plans to re-establish that blitzed centre on lines more attractive, healthful and efficient. It was suggested that the manner in which the city was going about its job furnished an example to New World towns of the way in which available space might be used to best advantage in civic development.

At the time the comment was being written, Mr. F. L. Shaw, chairman of the Victoria Town Planning Commission, was presenting to the Rotary Club a six-point program for the improvement of this community on planned lines. Mr. Shaw's proposals were not of a nature to interfere with existing substantial buildings or those in early prospect of construction. They were, nevertheless, important in respect to the utilization of vacant property. Among other things, he advocated the establishment of small parks in suitable locations to meet future needs. The desirability of quick action on that matter is clearly indicated by the number of potential play-lots which had been catalogued by the city parks commissioner and are now permanently removed from that category by residential construction on them. Similarly, Mr. Shaw's advocacy of federal action to eliminate the waterfront shantytown which mars the approaches to Victoria's harbor is a specific recommendation for beautification and correction of a condition which threatens public health. There is merit, too, in the other points raised—the clearing of the Gorge water, provision of a secondary highway to connect with the Island Highway, development of a community water works system and extension of branch libraries.

Victoria's Town Planning Commission would be enjoying a distinction almost unique if all its proposals won universal approval. Thoughtful criticism will, of course, be welcomed. But this group is certainly entitled to serious study of its recommendations if this city is to go ahead on progressive lines, and not be allowed to sprawl its future development in the unattractive and inefficient pattern of a weed patch.

HOPEFUL DEVELOPMENT

THE SIMPLE FACT ENUNCIATED BY President Truman to the United Nations Assembly on Oct. 24—that "there is no substitute for agreements that are universally acceptable because they are just to all concerned"—indicates the promise inherent in the Italian government's inclination to deal directly with Yugoslavia on the question of a Trieste settlement. If the two parties most directly concerned in the issue can reach accord on a basis of honest and fair arrangements for that provocative centre, then a material source of wider discord may be eliminated. Nor is that hope without precedent to justify it. An agreement on the South Tyrol was reached to the satisfaction of Italian and Austrian governments in direct negotiations during the Paris Conference.

There was, of course, in the Trieste proposal emanating from Yugoslavia a strong element of horse-trading involving the cession of Gorizia from Italy. While the latter move met immediate opposition from Italy, that country nevertheless saw in the suggestion a means for approaching the vexed Trieste question from a new point of view. The gestures from both sides furnish opportunity for reasonable consideration of the problem. If good will prevails, it is conceivable that this cause of international migraine may be eliminated.

ATTACK FROM WITHIN

WHAT MAY BE WIDELY CONSTRUED as a fifth column plot against Victoria is disclosed in the editorial columns of the Vancouver Province. That journal states it has received a letter from a resident here suggesting "it is high time the capital was transferred to Vancouver." Butressing the argument, the correspondent says Victoria's scattered government buildings, the city streets, the failure to adopt a civic centre recommended by a town planning commission, garbage carried out to sea and then washed back again, inadequate street lighting and other defects make the city unworthy of its present role.

With commendable candor the mainland daily admits these flaws exist, but are multiplied within Vancouver itself. It nevertheless likes the idea of transporting the Parliament Buildings across the gulf.

Victoria finds little liking for this outside washing of soiled linen. But though citizens will be stirred to righteous indignation by the method of attack from within, they might be better served if they did a little stirring closer to home, and saw that unsatisfactory conditions are improved in a way to avoid these snide remarks and unpleasant condemnations from a disloyal letter writer.

NOTES

Another good cheap remedy for headache is fresh air.

"We never realize its worth until we lose it," sang the poet. For example, note how a fish enlarges when it gets away.

To preachers: Don't be afraid of hurting feelings. Unless you name names, everybody will think you mean somebody else.

Walter Lippmann

WHAT SHOULD MR. TRUMAN DO?

IT WILL TAKE some doing if Congress and President Truman are to honor the pledges which they have exchanged. It is easier for them to say they will co-operate than it will be for them to do it.

For it will be more than a matter of overcoming the division between the two parties. Each of the parties is itself divided into factions. The Democrats are no longer united by an agreed program, party discipline and recognized leaders; the Republicans have not yet achieved a program, a discipline and leaders who unite them.

With the election of 1948 impending, with Mr. Truman still a candidate, the Republicans will be sorely tempted to make a public spectacle of Mr. Truman's helplessness. The best of the Republicans will not wish to treat him as a political prisoner, trussed up and caged for torture. But all the Republicans are not the best Republicans. Important Democrats will be no less tempted to exploit his helplessness. Knowing that Mr. Truman cannot be re-elected, their main concern will not be to win control of the national government in 1948 but to win control of the basic and indelible elements of the party organization.

DESPITE the excellent words that have been spoken, the prospects of joint action are at present poor, the premium on disagreement is high. The situation is very grave indeed, and unless extraordinary measures are taken to deal with it, there is every probability that the next two years will see a crisis of government of dangerous proportions to this country and to the world.

This is not, to be sure, the first time that the United States has had a divided control of the government. But familiarity should not breed complacency. There was a divided government after the Civil War and after the First World War, and these precedents are no comfort but on the contrary an awful warning.

AGAIN THERE is a divided government—this time after the greatest of all wars, with no peace as yet agreed to, or in sight, or even outlined and projected, and with the whole economy of the world, including the American, impoverished and dislocated. The settlement of this war, and the reconstruction, cannot be mastered without strong, purposeful and coherent government in the United States. An extraordinary effort of heart and mind is required to surmount the crisis of government which is now developing. For the times are exceptionally troubled, and the government as now constituted and manned is exceptionally weak.

The task before the U.S. is to form a government that can govern. She will not get such a government by informal consultation between the President and the Congressional leaders. Yet that appears to be all that he and they have thus far in mind for carrying out their pledges of co-operation. Informal consultation will not be enough.

THE CONSULTATION should be based on law and not merely on good intentions, the moods and personal idiosyncrasies of a few individuals. Perhaps as good a way as any to achieve this would be to adopt the proposal of Dr. Galloway, the staff director of the LaFollette-Monroe Committee, and to create by joint resolution of Congress and an executive order of the President, an executive-legislative council with a secretary. The great advantages of establishing formal machinery is that it would make solemn the duty of collaboration, that it would focus the attention of the country upon the task of finding agreement, and that it would fix clearly and conspicuously the responsibilities of the individuals who promote or obstruct agreement.

MR. TRUMAN'S PROBLEM is the unusual weakness of his position. He has not only lost control of Congress but he is only in name the leader of the party. He can, however, escape from the helpless position he is in if he can be induced to face the realities and then to use the political measures of last resort which are still available to him. He can say without qualification that he is not a candidate for 1948. This will strengthen him under the present circumstances, since he will no longer be the man the Republicans must destroy. He can reorganize his cabinet, offering to Republicans at a minimum the post of Secretary of the Treasury, on the ground that as they control the purse, a Republican should administer the government finances.

But if he were willing to be as bold as wisdom in his circumstances requires, he would go further. He would inform the new Congress that if, after there has been a fair trial of formal and careful consultation, no adequate joint program is agreed to, he will ask them to re-enact in some suitable form the Act of 1792, and that he intends to resign. This will either break the deadlock, or it will resolve it by a national election.

MR. TRUMAN WILL MAKE a serious mistake if he treats the idea of resigning as a personal affront and a reflection on his courage. It is a poor conception of the public service which makes it a moral duty for a man to cling to an office, or to be a prisoner in it, if he cannot exercise its functions. The right to resign is one of the cherished privileges of a free man; the willingness to resign, when principle and the public interest are served, is always present in the public-spirited and the self-respecting. They look upon resigning not as cowardice and quitting and a personal disaster, but as the ultimate guarantee of their useful influence and of their personal dignity.

Between De Beers and a Mandate

From News Review

A CANADIAN born in Montreal, Quebec, a holiday resort equidistant between Montreal and Ottawa, is trapped between a diamond monopoly and a British mandate. His name is John Thorburn Williamson, 39 years of age and "potentially" one of the richest men in the world. The diamond monopoly is that of the De Beers Consolidated Mines Ltd. based by a "sun-bronzed, grey-haired multi-millionaire," Sir Ernest Oppenheimer. The mandate is Tanganyika, formerly German East Africa, headed for the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations. Britain's draft of plans for the trustees insist that "the political and economic advancement of the inhabitants must be the over-riding duty of the administration."

John Thorburn Williamson owns 299 out of 400 shares in the Mwadi diamond mine in Tanganyika. His brother, Percy, a war-crimpled veteran owns another 100. So that John, a former law student at McGill, who switched to geology after spending a holiday in Labrador, where he discovered that rocks were more interesting than legal arguments, absolutely controls Mwadi and the adjoining claims from which he has dug, crushed and washed a current output of diamonds valued at $8,000,000 a year.

LEAVING McGill with a geological diploma to the effect that the bearer "certainly knows his rocks," John T. Williamson journeyed to South Africa and got a job with De Beers Consolidated. After a few years he became a free-lance prospector in Tanganyika and working on his own theories began staking claims at various points within a 60-mile circle drawn around Mwadi. He was looking for what, in technical parlance, is known as the central "pipe" of diamondiferous kimberlite. The pipe is a chimney driven to the surface by volcanic eruptions. Diamonds formed ages ago when carbon in molten underground rock crystallized. They are found on the surface in "yellow" ground or kimberlite, a rock of volcanic origin which fills the craters of extinct volcanoes.

The De Beers Company point out that out of 45 such pipes so far discovered in Tanganyika not one has proved diamondiferous. Yet after battling with heat, malaria, tsetse flies, no transportation, lack of water, and being christened by the natives as the "White Man of No Fortune," John Williamson obtained a diamond of 120-carats, the largest ever mined in East Africa. He has up to now only scratched the "yellow" ground at the rate of 800 tons per day to a depth of two or three feet. Without machinery, for which he is waiting, he cannot bore down into the "blue" ground where the biggest diamonds are found.

BUT ANYBODY WHO can wash diamonds out of the ground to the value of $8,000,000 a year is a "potential" threat to the diamond monopoly of De Beers. Sir John Oppenheimer, knowing Williamson's skill as a geologist kept an eye on his adventures. When news of his "strike" seeped down to Johannesburg, Sir John sent his son Harry to view the land and negotiate with the Canadian. At present there is an unprecedented boom in the diamond market and De Beers can sell every one they produce at the market price which they control. When demand slackens the company holds diamonds off the market. But if Williamson gets his machinery, he becomes a serious competitor because he can swamp a market short of the De Beers supply.

On the other hand De Beers control the immensely rich Kimberley fields and others in the Congo, Portuguese Angola, and Brazil. They could undersell the Mwadi mines for years and then recoup their losses when Williamson was forced out of business. Exactly what form the negotiations conducted by Harry Oppenheimer took nobody knows. Williamson has always remained on the friendliest terms with the De Beers Corporation and rumor around Johannesburg believes he was offered about $20,000,000 for Mwadi. But from a mass of contradictory reports it is gathered that he not only refused to sell but also to come into the De Beers Diamond Trading Company.

AT THIS STAGE enters the party of the third part,

Road Block To Higher Standard

By J. H. Gray, From Ottawa

LITTLE has been heard of it lately, but the protective tariff still remains the worst road block in Canada's journey toward a higher standard of living. Canadians can be justly proud of the job their government has done in controlling prices since 1941. The benefit of our price control system is made obvious to us every time we sit down to the table.

But when we push back from the table and go shopping for things in the household capital goods field some of the gloss rubs off our much vaunted price level. The gloss remover is the Canadian tariff.

Numbering ourselves among the luckiest of the breed, we recently acquired a brand new car. There was only one slight difficulty in the way of complete conversion of status from pedestrian to motorist—tires. The prolonged tire strike had stopped all flow of tires to motor makers. They took to shipping cars without tires. Like many another Canadian in the same fix, we hit namely the British Government at the mandate, which recently despatched Colonial Under-Secretary Arthur Creech Jones to view scenery around Mwadi. To him came the representative chiefs of the 4,000,000 natives and 75 different Negro tribes who live in Tanganyika. "Is this not our wealth?" they ask: "Are you going to let foreign interests take it away from us? Why cannot we mine the diamonds and sell them ourselves?" So Britain determines that any plans for the mines must be devised to give the natives the greatest share. The Tanganyika Trustee Government might take over the mine, levy taxes and royalties and control production.

It is of course quite possible that when the machinery arrives for which Williamson waits, the pipe into the blue ground may prove barren, like others which have been discovered. But whether or not that is the case the fact remains that Mr. John Thorburn Williamson, geologist of McGill, owns Mwadi and has washed out diamonds of such value and quantity, that Sir John Oppenheimer, the boss of De Beers Consolidated, thought negotiations were in order lest his company's monopoly of the market were lost.

out for the United States to buy tires.

THE PRICE CEILING on the tires and tubes we required, in Canada, was $32 or a total of $160 for a set of five. In the city of Schenectady, N.Y., we bought the five for a total of $124 which was about 10 per cent higher than before the O.P.A. was scrapped. Even at that it appeared that I had got a bargain. En route they encountered the Canadian customs. By the time the customs officers got through figuring the 25 per cent duty, the 8 per cent sales tax and the 5c per pound excise tax the duty had mounted to $47.

American automobile prices have risen substantially since before the war. Nevertheless, they are still selling below the Canadian price. Motorists who need tires, or heaters, or car radios, can get them all at much less than Canadian motorists must pay. And of course, the price of gasoline below the line is as usual much below the Canadian price.

'He Should Be Exalted'

New York A.P. Dispatch in the Washington Post

THE CARNEGIE Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, making its forty-first annual report, says the teacher in America is a "forgotten man" and proposes a three-fold program for bettering teaching conditions, including increased compensation.

"One sometimes gets the impression that the teacher, the central figure in the educational process, is a 'forgotten man,' and that effective teaching, the essential factor, is taken for granted," the foundation said.

The report stated the Government was subsidizing 10,000,000 student veterans and that "vast expenditures" were being made for buildings, laboratories, equipment and special programs.

"In all the discussions about these activities," the foundation said, "little has been said of better provision for the teacher. Slight increases in pay have been noted and great shortage of personnel has been referred to, but little interest has been manifested in the problem of improving the quality of teaching and in the teacher himself."

DOCTOR OLIVER C. Carmichael, president of the foundation, released the report and said a sampling of 70 colleges showed that the increase in compensation for faculty members between 1939-40 and 1946-47 "was less than 20 per cent, while living costs for faculty members of these same institutions increased more than 30 per cent during the same period."

As a means of "attacking" the problem, the foundation suggested: "First, stimulation of faculties by incentives of various kinds; secondly, more effective means of measuring the results of teaching; and, thirdly, more adequate compensation for the teacher, which is necessary if able men and women are to be attracted to the profession."

The foundation termed the teacher's plight "alarming" and said that "this grave crisis in the teaching profession calls for early action if permanent injury to American education is to be averted."

AN INCREASED compensation "throughout the system" was asked by the foundation, which said "the problem is not to be solved by foundation grants."

More money for teachers, although important, is not a solution in itself, the foundation said, and added in reference to the teacher, "in our educational planning he should be exalted, the importance of his role emphasized and magnified."

Peace rests without doubt in the hands of the great powers of the world, but the world will not resign itself to the idea that their conflicts of interest justify the sacrifice of the well-being of humanity.—Pedro Leao Velloso, Brazilian U.N. delegate.

Ex-Air Force Men Given Preference

Western Air Command today announced that emphasis on recruiting for the permanent air force will be placed on re-engaging former members of the R.C.A.F. However, young men who have not served in the armed forces may also be enlisted in any one of the open trades.

There are at present 10 trades open for enlistees. They are aero-engine and airframe mechanics, metal workers, operators of special engineering equipment, radio technicians, safety equipment workers and seamen.

Re-engaged personnel may receive as high a rank as Warrant Officer if they have the necessary qualifications. Any former member of the armed services with 187 days service will automatically qualify as an L.A.C. and will be given the trade grouping he had prior to discharge.

Aircrew who desire to enlist in the ground trades will be given a special trade grouping and will have six months training in their new trade before taking a trade test.

Enlistees may, if they desire, receive one month's leave without pay prior to leaving for Manning Depot at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba. Applications may be made to Room 411, Post Office Building, Victoria, telephone E1812, or directly to Western Air Command Headquarters, Vancouver.

Attlee Launches Drive For F.D.R. Memorial Fund

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Attlee appealed to Britons Sunday night for contributions to finance a $160,000 Franklin D. Roosevelt memorial in London as a reminder of what Mr. Roosevelt's "friendship meant to our generation in our hour of need."

Provincial Police Force 88 Years Old

The 88th birthday of the B.C. Police Force, oldest territorial law enforcement body in North America, will be celebrated this week.

The force was founded in 1888 when the area it covered was still a Crown Colony. It was first known as the Crown Colonies Police of B.C. and Vancouver Island, and later became known as the B.C. Police Force.

The force today consists of 445 men and it covers 360,000 square miles. It was the first police force to operate a point-to-point short-wave radio telegraph police network on the continent. It also was the first territorial force to organize water patrols.

Since the inception of the force, been received from the King and Queen.

"I doubt," said Mr. Attlee, "if the British people ever before felt such friendship for a statesman of another country."

9,989 cases have been presented by it in court. Approximately 93 per cent of these brought convictions.

Farmers May Still Apply To Employ Immigrants

British Columbia farmers may still make application to employ Polish war veterans on their farms.

It was reported here today that only 120 applications had been approved from B.C. farmers seeking to employ the immigrants while a total of 150 immigrants are expected to come to the province.

Fifty of the immigrants, veterans of Gen. Anders' Polish army which served in Italy with the Allied forces, are expected to arrive in Chilliwack on Sunday. Another contingent of 100 is expected the following week.

They form part of a contingent of 1,500 who arrived last week in Halifax from Naples aboard a troop transport.

It is not known here how many of the veterans will come to Vancouver Island.

Reserve army men operating machines in static workshop.

The 59 L.A.A. Workshop, R.C.E.M.E., was formed this summer in Victoria to fill the mobile role of a 2nd Line Workshop for the 66 L.A.A. Regiment, whose headquarters are located in Nanaimo.

The personnel was largely drawn from the 1st (R) Fortress Workshop, which was disbanded this year in keeping with the general policy of training the reserve army in a mobile role.

The main functions of an L.A.A. Workshop are to perform 2nd Echelon repairs for a L.A.A. Regiment and to recover the regiment's equipment when necessary.

This 2nd Echelon work consists of changing components and assemblies or armaments, small arms and vehicles. Recovery is undertaken with a medium recovery vehicle. Another important function of this type of workshop is to help advise the gunners in the maintenance of their equipments.

Training for such a role is interesting and varied. Primary training will be carried out in a static workshop with complete machine shop, carpenter shop, welding shop, armorer shop and vehicle shop sections. Mobile training will take place in stages such as driving heavy vehicles, map reading, setting up the workshop vehicles in the field, recovery, cooking, making camp, etc., and latter stages of training will take place during weekends with the L.A.A. Regiment in the Nanaimo area. It is expected that the workshop will be able to undertake its role in the field by next summer.

This 59 L.A.A. Workshop, R.C.E.M.E., is composed of headquarters section and three main sections. Increments are laid down for maintenance of special equipment.

The establishment is authorized for one officer and 28 other ranks. Increments may be authorized from time to time depending on equipment issued to the 66 L.A.A. Regiment. Armourers, fitters, motor mechanics, electricians, etc., are included in the establishment.

Instructions will be given in welding, carpentry, armorer work, machining, blacksmithing, electrical and vehicle maintenance. The primary stages of instruction will be general and will follow up-to-date shop practice.

The latter stages will deal specifically with the repair of army equipment such as anti-aircraft guns, trucks, rifles, wireless sets, etc. The 59 L.A.A. Workshop, R.C.E.M.E., will be equipped with a static and a mobile workshop. The static workshop for primary training and the mobile shop for field training. Machine tools, such as lathes, millers, shapers, grinders, Dewalt saws, circular saws, hand saws, will be installed in the static shop. Test equipment and special tools will also be issued for vehicle maintenance.

The mobile shop includes a machinery lorry, spare parts lorry, gas welding trailer and a medium breakdown lorry. These vehicles are completely equipped to enable the workshop perform its 2nd Echelon role in the field.

Few among them foresaw Canada's mining industry as we know it today. Gold, silver, copper, coal and iron were early goals. Nickel, aluminum, magnesium, pitchblende and uranium were undreamed of.

Canadian mining prospectors came of the same sturdy pioneer stock as their more conservative brethren who envisioned the need for an institution that would provide life insurance protection for dependents and for old age. The founders of Confederation Life Association were men of this character—they, too, were pioneers.

Confederation Life representatives were among the first to carry the benefits of life insurance to the mining communities of Canada, and as changing conditions called for new types of policies, Confederation Life kept abreast of the times and was one of the first Canadian life insurance companies to offer a complete Group Insurance Service to mining companies and their employees, many of whom now carry all their Group Insurance with this Association.

COLOMBIA'S INDIANS LIVE CHIEFLY IN FOREST AREAS

In the tropical parts of Colombia are hundreds of kinds of furry animals, birds and reptiles. Chattering monkeys swarm on the trees in the great forests, and the forests also contain the fierce catlike animals known as pumas and jaguars.

Piglike peccaries roam about under the trees, eating what nuts they may find and being eaten by certain of the larger animals.

The huge snakes called boas are among those which like to make meals out of peccaries. Along the banks of the Magdalena and other large rivers, alligators are fairly common. The rivers are well supplied with fish, likewise turtles. The so-called "tortoise-shell turtles" are found in some sections, and their shells have gone into making the frames for thousands of pairs of spectacles.

Colorful birds fly through the Colombian forests. These include parrots, parakeets, toucans and macaws. Among the other birds of the republic are storks, spoonbills, cranes and herons.

The usual language spoken in Colombia is Spanish. For three centuries this area was owned by Spain. At length the people broke away from Spanish rule.

Today Colombia has a population of about 9,000,000, or 20 for each square mile in the republic. Out of each hundred persons, about 21 are of white descent, with seven being full-blooded Indians and five full-blooded negroes. The rest—about two-thirds of the population—are of mixed breed. A common mixture in the lowland parts of the country is made up of white, negro and Indian stock; persons with this mixture have the special name of "zambos."

The full-blooded Indians of Colombia are found chiefly in the high forest regions. Thousands of them have kept away from white settlers and lowland negroes, and to a large extent have kept their old customs.

At the time the whites reached the country, some Indian tribesmen were well along on the road toward civilization. They used a calendar system to keep track of passing time. They gave worship to the sun. Many of them lived in villages, and raised crops on nearby land. Some wore clothing woven from cotton. (For travel section of your scrapbook.)

More than 100 business associates, relatives and friends of Frederick J. Jeune attended a banquet and social evening Saturday night at the Empress Hotel to mark the 60th anniversary of the establishment of Jeune Bros., 570 Johnson Street.

The history of the sailmaking firm was reviewed by A. D. Crease, K.C., honorary commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, chairman, who noted that Mr. Jeune learned the sailmakers' trade on his home island of Jersey, Channel Islands.

When Mr. Jeune started the firm in Victoria in 1886, the chairman said, his initial investment amounted to $7.50. "The firm has prospered over the years through the high quality of its work," Mr. Crease said, as he told of Mr. Jeune making sails for vessels all over the Pacific coast and other parts of the world in the days of the full-rigged sailing ships.

Miss Margaret Venables, head of the Jeune Bros. book-keeping department, proposed the toast to Mr. Jeune on behalf of members of the staff.

Marriage By Clergy Widely Endorsed, Civil Rites Opposed

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—The balance of public opinion in Canada still tips heavily away from civil marriages, in spite of the fact that only two provinces—Quebec and Ontario—make no provision for marriages of this sort.

The question of civil marriages, which has been aired in connection with the discussions of church groups on marriage problems, was put to the voters of Canada, through a Gallup Poll sample, in this form:

"In some Canadian provinces, civil marriages are allowed—that is, people may be married by a judge or some other court official if they wish. In other provinces, marriages can be performed only by clergymen. Which law would you like to see in this province?"

While a third of the population would like to see both forms of service permissible, only three in every 100 persons interviewed would like to see civil marriages alone. The verdict of the public looks like this: Clergy only, 90%; civil marriages only, 3%; choice of either, 33%; undecided, 4%.

Those Canadians who voted for civil marriages, either as the sole marriage rite, or in conjunction with a religious ceremony, were asked further:

"Do you think this should be permitted only in the higher courts, like county courts, or do you think police magistrates or justices of the peace should be allowed to perform marriages?"

Opinion was very evenly divided, with half those in this group, with an opinion, voting

Defines Line For Proposed Division Of Saanich Wards

A proposed line of division for Saanich at the north end of Elk Lake to be placed before the ratepayers in a referendum at the Dec. 14 municipal election, was defined more clearly today by Sydney Pickles, president of Ward 6 Ratepayers' Association.

The proposed line will cut West Saanich Road approximately 100 yards north of the Prospect Lake School; approximately 200 yards north of the intersection of the East Saanich

Road and Brookleigh Road; approximately 750 yards north of the Cordova Bay wells; about 150 yards south of the intersection of Brookleigh and Oldfield Roads; about 150 yards south of the intersection of Sayward and Fowler Roads and approximately three-quarters of a mile northwest along the Old West Road from the corner of Oldfield Road.

The question of dividing the municipality by this line was proposed by Councillor J. W. Casey at a special meeting of the council last week. His resolution which was carried by a 4 to 3 vote was: "Are you in favor of the division of Saanich municipality by a line in an easterly and westerly direction from the intersection of Sayward and

Feathery, Flavorful ORANGE CAKE

Success Like This Can Be Yours!

ORANGE Layer Cake is a favorite at any age or for any occasion—a dessert in itself, or wonderful with desserts. And you'll find Orange Cake more than ever delicious, made with Swans Down Cake Flour!

Swans Down does marvellous things for all cakes—makes them fine and even, with velvety crumb that literally melts in your mouth! Swans Down cakes are outstanding, even when you save butter, shortening, sugar or eggs.

Made by a "Controlled Milling" process from selected Canadian wheat, Swans Down is sifted again and again through silk until wonderfully even and 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. That's why Swans Down cakes are always more delicious.

ORANGE LAYER CAKE

2 1/4 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour

2 1/4 teaspoons Columbine Baking Powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup shortening (part butter preferred)

1 cup sugar

2 eggs, beaten light

3/4 cup milk

1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt; sift three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually; cream until light. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time; beat smooth after each addition. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375°F.) about 25 minutes. Fill with orange cream filling and cover with orange frosting. Garnish with fresh orange segments.

How Swans Down is Different from Ordinary Flour:

FINER—as icing sugar is finer than granulated!

MORE EVEN—as graded peas are more even than ungraded!

LIGHTER—as sized peas are lighter than whole ones!

Doreen Owen-Bride
Of Edmund Brown

Rev. W. H. Kerley, assisted by Rev. J. Hood, performed the ceremony Saturday at 8.30 which united in marriage, Doreen Clara, daughter of E. R. Owen, 1721 Davie Street, and the late Mrs. Owen, and Edmund Charles Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown, 905 Hereward Road.

Amid a setting of white chrysanthemums in Belmont United Church, Mr. Owen gave his daughter in marriage. A floor-length veil, held with a coronet of orange blossoms, filmed over her taffeta gown, styled with off-the-shoulder neckline and bouffant skirt. She carried a fluff bouquet of pink roses, violets and swainsons.

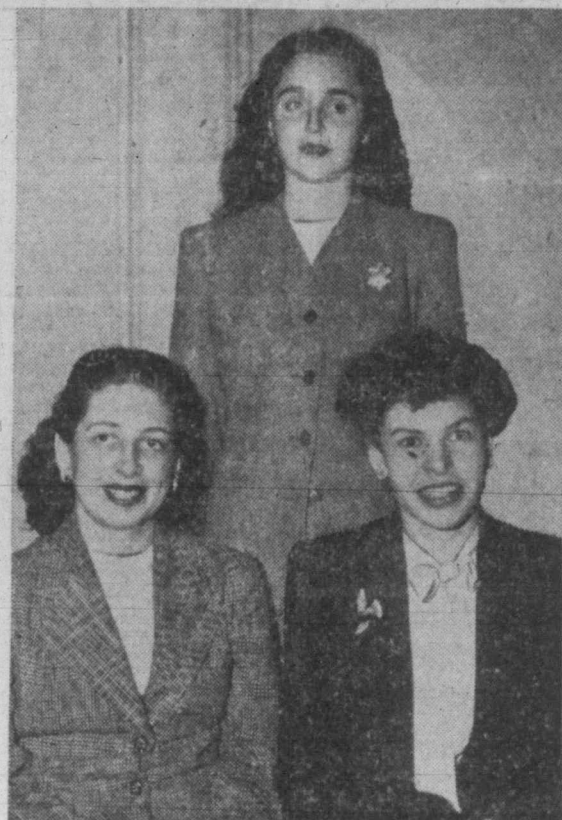

Wearing a gown fashioned with blue velvet top and net skirt, was the bride's only attendant, Miss Lorna Murgatroyd. She wore a coronet of pink roses and swainsons, blue mitts and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses. Howard Horner was best man, and ushering were John Bugslag and the brother of the bride, John Edward Owen. Mrs. Clara Hardy sang "Till Walk Beside You" while the register was being signed and W. Johnson presided at the organ.

A reception followed at the Owen residence. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table which was decorated with white candles and mauve chrysanthemums.

The honeymoon will be spent in Vancouver and Seattle. For traveling the bride chose a brown wool dress with brown coat trimmed in leopard fur and brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside at 1249 Rockland Avenue on their return.

Sponsor Holly Bazaar And Tea

Do You Feel Nervous
And All on Edge?

People suffering from loss of appetite and rundown condition with symptoms of nerve strain often need a nerve and general tonic. Glycero-Lecithin with Vitamin B(1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B(1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal if the loss of appetite was due to deficiency of Vitamin B (1) in the diet. $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other Drug Stores. Centennial Church
Scene Of Wedding

Preceded by dainty Bonnie Poulsen as flower girl, Miss Cracknell, bridesmaid, and Mrs. William Massey, as matron of honor, Miss Jenny Elliott Thornthwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Thornthwaite, 1120 Hillside Avenue, entered Centennial United Church Friday evening to become the bride of Waldo Poulsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Poulsen, 1118 Hillside Avenue.

Rev. W. R. Ashford performed the service. Organist was Miss Hilda Kirkby with Miss Avis Butler, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of lace over satin with sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and lace mitts. A coronet of orange blossoms held her full-length veil and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Massey, the bride's sister, wore mauve sheer and Miss Cracknell was gowned in pink sheer. They wore matching headresses and carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations. Bonnie Poulsen, the groom's niece, was gowned in yellow sheer, with poke bonnet to match and carried a Colonial bouquet.

The groom chose as best man, his brother, Reno Poulsen. Ushers were Lawrence Oakland and Kenneth Scurrah.

Mrs. Thornthwaite and Mrs. Poulsen assisted in receiving guests at a reception held in the Hard-of-Hearing Hall. J. D. Horne proposed the bride's toast.

Following their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Poulsen will reside in Victoria.

Auxiliary Bazaar

Mrs. Rowland Halls opened the bazaar sponsored by the Street Railwaymen's W.A. and was presented with a corsage bouquet by the president, Mrs. W. Spedding. The general convener was Mrs. S. ## Exchange Vows At St. Alban's

Wearing a colonial gown of embroidered net over satin, fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt, caught with satin bows, Miss Florence May Jasper was escorted by her brother, P.O. Delbert Jasper, R.C.N., down the aisle of St. Alban's Church, Saturday, at 8, to exchange nuptial vows with Wallace Daniel Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Barry Reid, 724 Wilson Street.

White chrysanthemums decorated the church for the service, performed by Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin. Miss Dorothy Drury played wedding music and soloist was Miss Elma Keeler.

The daughter of Mrs. Jessie Jasper, 1286 Holloway Street, and the late Archie Jasper, completed her costume with a fingertip veil held by a coronet of orange blossoms and a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations, centred with gardenia.

Gowned in pink with matching calot was Miss Sheila Whitmore, the bride's cousin, as maid of honor. Her bouquet was pink and white carnations. Flower girl, Miss Bernice Jasper, also a cousin of the bride, wore yellow dotted tulle over satin, headpiece of yellow and blue rosettes, and carried a matching colonial bouquet.

Ronald Beale attended the groom, and ushers were William Jenkins, Wilfred Jasper and William Jasper.

The young couple, assisted by their mothers, welcomed guests at a reception which followed at the K. of P. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid left on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and points up-island. For traveling, the bride chose a silver grey dress, powder blue topcoat with silver fox collar, black accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenia and pink roses. On their return, they will live in Victoria.

Hawes, R. Ewing, B. Barnes, G. Barnes and Misses E. Davies, D. Smith, Marlene Davies, Maureen Moore and Master Harry Richardson.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. J. Gibson, 1562 Clawthorne Avenue, in honor of Miss Isabelle Craigie, who is to be married this month. Hostesses with Mrs. Gibson were Mrs. R. Banning and Miss Nancy Gibson. Guests included Mesdames C. Roth, I. Gibson, P. Brien, A. Cunningham, G. Leckie, J. G. McMillan, J. McMillan, G. Puritch, B. Avender, G. Whitaker, Misses Ruby Craigie, Jean Cunningham, Leola Riddell, Isabelle Cunningham, Patsy Gibson, Margaret Cunningham, Eileen Leckie, Lil Elnor and Janet Avender.

Miss Ann McIntosh was hostess at a formal farewell party held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McIntosh, 155 Passmore Street, on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Lois Dyson. During the evening the guest of honor was presented with a silver charm bracelet and corsage as a token of remembrance. Among invited guests were the Misses Dianna Abbott, June Day, Donna Salmon, Pat Garrard, Joan Hodge, Vera Williams, Ann McIntosh, and Lois Dyson, Messrs. Alan Keyworth, Myron Bolagno, Bill Shipley, Robert Day, John Mackie, Don Elliott and David Potts.

North Ward Community Hall, 304 Killings Road, was the scene of a surprise party recently in honor of Mrs. M. DeGirolomo and Mr. W. Veatch, who are to be married this month. On arriving Master Denny Guelpa presented the bride-to-be and her mother with corsages of chrysanthemums. Dancing and community singing were enjoyed with music by Messrs. A. DeGirolomo, R. Roskelley and G. Parker. A rainbow made of colored streamers led to individual gifts and finally to a trilliant lamp, a gift from the assembled guests. Supper was served at small tables decorated with autumn flowers by Mrs. O. Guelpa Sr., Mrs. O. Guelpa Jr. and Miss D. Guelpa. Mrs. J. Reed assisted with decorations. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pastro from Alaska, and Mrs. Jackson of New Westminster.

Engagements

The engagement is announced of Doris Elaine Louise, younger daughter of Mrs. Fraser and the late Mr. James Fraser, 343 Michigan Street, to Peter Edward Fane, R.C.N., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Fane, Lake Hill. The wedding will take place Dec. 20 at St. John's Church at 8 p.m.

'Step By Step' Has Hazardous Romance

The stormy romance of two young people fleeing from both the police and a vengeful gang of conspirators motivates the dramatic action of "Step By Step," R.K.O. Radio's adventure featuring Lawrence Tierney and Anne Jeffreys, at the Atlas Theatre.

The California coast is the setting for the stirring events which begin when Johnny Christopher, just out of the Marines, meets a senator's pretty secretary on the beach. Later the girl disappears and "step by step" Johnny finds himself entangled in a mystery, of which a brutal assault on the senator and the murder of his chief investigator are only the beginning.

The supporting cast includes Lowell Gilmore, George Cleveland, Myrna Dell, Harry Harvey, Ray Walker and John Hamilton.

St. John Ambulance Premier Award Made To Victoria Girl

Miss Nora Smith, 337 Burnside Road, was presented with the highest award ever made in Canada by the St. John Ambulance Nursing Division—the Grand Prior's Badge—Saturday night by W. C. Mainwaring, O.B.E., O. St. J., provincial commissioner and vice-president of the B.C. branch of the association, when he inspected 160 members of the local brigade in Bay Street Armories.

The entire brigade, composed of men and women, presented a smart military appearance as it paraded around the Armories to the skirt of pipes.

Miss Smith, 17 years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith. She joined the brigade in 1940 and qualified for the high honor from the London headquarters for her work in first aid, home-nursing, child welfare, citizenship, clerical work, training young girls in physical exercise and coaching junior groups in first aid.

Mr. Mainwaring made the presentation to Miss Smith. Oak Bay Nursing Cadet Division, which won the provincial championship, was awarded the Leonard Shield by Hon. E. C. Carson, M.L.A.

OTHER AWARDS

The Murray MacLaren Trophy and five junior cups for first aid, Dominion championship, were presented to the winners by Mrs. W. C. Woodward, provincial lady superintendent. First prize went to Oak Bay C.N.D. Division, while the Victoria Cadet Division won the second. Denton Holmes, Cadet Nursing Division, placed third. Another presentation by Mrs. Woodward was a trophy to A. M. Jarvie, divisional superintendent of the Victoria Ambulance Division No. 63, for placing in the Dominion championship runner-up position for senior first aid work.

The Victoria Nursing Division was awarded the J. R. Gaunt Trophy for immediate first aid. The daughter of the late J. G. Strood, former ambulance officer of Division 63, was presented with a long service medal.

In addition to the inspection, parade and presentations there were also demonstrations in first aid, blood grouping and the Ewe method of artificial respiration. Work done by St. John first aid members at the scene of a highway accident was depicted.

Begin Recruiting For Scottish Regt.

As the Canadian Scottish Regiment began its drive for recruits in its new Canadian Army Reserve role, more than 100 veterans of the regiment met for a smoker in Bay Street Armories Saturday night.

Entertainment for the smoker was provided by Stan James, J. McGrath, Bill Anderson, Bill Emerson and Ed Davies. A Dec. 6 dance is being planned and a radio quiz from the armories the same night is being considered.

Over 2,000 recruits are needed to bring all reserve army units here up to peacetime strength.

The Scottish will have two nights a week, one training and one sports, the training night covering all phases of modern warfare.

During the annual summer camp, the feature of the year's reserve army training, will allow reservists to take part in tactical exercises in co-operation with services. It is hoped airborne and combined operations will be studied at large training centres located throughout the province.

Street lights now can be automatically regulated to provide the required illumination, regardless of the weather, by use of an electronic switch.

Cagney Stars In 'Frisco Kid'

The Rio Theatre today presents James Cagney in "Frisco Kid," a dramatic tale of the thrilling pioneer days of the Barbary Coast.

Bloody battles, quick hangings, unfair trials, the robbing and killing of sailors made up the ruthless underworld of those times with Bat Morgan, played by James Cagney, as its King.

This gripping and vivid action is all part of the picturesque story with James Cagney as the "Frisco Kid" and Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo Cortez and Lili Damita in featured roles.

Linda Beats Early Fadeout

Lately, whenever Linda Darnell has been cast in a motion picture, you could bet the family jewels that she would not be around at the final fade-out, having been killed off in an earlier scene. Not only could you bet, you could give odds.

Perhaps that phase of her career has not been ended, but at least it has come to a temporary halt with her appearance in Jerome Kern's "Centennial Summer," the new 20th Century-Fox technicolor musical, opening today at the Capitol Theatre. In this picture, moviegoers will be given the undeniable pleasure of looking upon the Darnell charms right up to the last scene.

To Clean Up Premises Classed Unsanitary

Strong efforts will be made to get the unsanitary conditions of an inner courtyard between Johnson, Store and Cormorant Streets cleaned up, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the health committee, said today.

The health committee, together with Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, Fire Chief Joseph Raymond, and Building Inspector J. W. Oosterink inspected the premises Friday.

The courtyard, which is littered with scrap iron, junk and garbage, is behind premises on Store Street which have already been condemned by the city, and are a menace to health and public safety, Ald. Hunter said.

The health committee will recommend to the City Council that the city co-operate with the owners in getting the whole area cleaned up.

The Vancouver Island Philatelic Society held its monthly meeting at the Empress Hotel. Miss Jessie Gordon showed her interesting collection of the stamps of Barbadoes. Miss Gordon accompanied the display with an interesting talk on the history of the island and its stamps. V. N. Bigwood, the president was in the chair.

Vancouver Brunette Named 'Dream Girl' Of 4 Universities

VANCOUVER (CP)—It may be the climate, the sea breezes and the salubrious mountain air, but one thing has been decided—British Columbia has the campus "Dream Girl" of western Canada.

A tall, 17-year-old brunette, Marion Albert of Vancouver, wears the crown of "Miss Western Canada Co-Ed," having won the "Dream Girl" contest staged Saturday night by the University of British Columbia.

Marion, youngest of eight contestants, won the unanimous decision of the three Seattle, Wash., judges, the U.B.C. beauty upholding the honor of the coast against the belles from the University of Alberta and Manitoba and Regina College, an affiliate of the University of Saskatchewan.

It all started when seven Regina boys, students at the U.B.C., wrote home that the prairies had all the beauties. "Send us some," was their plaintive call. Then came the challenge from the U.B.C.

The judges who watched the parade of blondes, brunettes and auburns, and short and tall "Dream Girls," were John N. Jewett, Arthur G. Neltz and S. F. Perrin.

It was not a bathing beauty contest, but one with emphasis on poise, personality and natural beauty. Marion had them all.

The girls, two each from Edmonton, Winnipeg, Regina and Vancouver, wore shimmering evening gowns.

The other contestants were Norma Shearer, cousin of the movie star, and Rosalie McHaffie, from Edmonton; Marie Blondal and Jean Rogers of Regina; Lee Armstrong and Pat Lebbetter of Winnipeg, and Tina Howard of the U.B.C. They all joined in the festivities before departing for home.

Saanich Postpones Taking Water System

Until the Cleveland report on the water question for southern Vancouver Island has been submitted Saanich wants to leave the taking over of the Elk Lake water system in abeyance, the Council informed Ald. J. A. Worthington, chairman of the city water board.

The offer made by the city was that Saanich take over and operate the Elk Lake water system on payment to Victoria of $1,000 a year. One of the terms would be that the R.C.A.F. be supplied 500,000 gallons of water daily, for which $12,000 a year would be paid.

At the same time ratepayers of Ward 6 and adjacent areas in North Saanich, acting independently of the Saanich Council, are trying to form a water board and take over the system to operate it for the benefit of the residents of that area.

Moslems Ask Wavell To Restore Order

NEW DELHI (CP)—Asserting Hindu mobs had killed 30,000 Moslems and indulged in an orgy of rape, looting and incendiarism in Bihar province, the Moslem League has asked the Viceroy, Viscount Wavell, to take immediate steps to restore order and conduct an inquiry to determine the ringleaders of the atrocities.

In a resolution drawn up by its committee of action the League said it believed the "organized and merciless destruction of life and property which has taken place in Bihar is without parallel anywhere in the world in peacetime."

Meanwhile the Nizam of Hyderabad, Moslem ruler of the largest Indian state, appealed to Indians to end the fratricidal strife in the country.

Bays Register Second Straight Runby Triumph

Bert Buller's Bays threw back a determined challenge by the Oak Bay Wanderers at Macdonald Park on Saturday afternoon as they scored their second win of the Barnard Cup race before about 500 chilly rugby fans by a 12 to 3 score.

Ritchie Williams scored the first try for the Bays when he picked up a loose ball near the five yard line and went over near the flag for the score.

Doug Bray made it 6 to 0 just before the breather, as he followed up on a smart dribbling attack by the Bay forwards and fell on the ball for the try. Both conversions were wide of the uprights and the half ended with the Bays enjoying a 6 to 0 lead.

The aggressive Oak Bay forwards seldom gave the highly touted Bay three-quarter line a chance to get rolling in the second half, and as a result most of the play was between the two 25 yard lines. Tommy McKeachie booted two penalty kicks through the posts to end the Bay scoring for the day.

KICKS PENALTY GOAL

Harry Olsen, who turned in a smart game at fullback for the losers scored three points for his team on a 35 yard penalty goal halfway through the second half.

Playing on the lower field, Victoria College flashed far too much power for the Naval College intermediates and captured their third straight game 16 to 0.

A penalty kick by Skillings gave the Collegians a three point lead in the first half, and combined with three tries and two conversions in the second half ensured the college boys of victory.

Jim Burland, hustling forward, scored two of the tries for the winners with Stevenson notching the third. Skillings booted two conversions and accounted for seven of his team's points.

POSTPONE SOCCER

Sunday's scheduled first division football game between Victoria West and Esquimalt was called off owing to weather and ground conditions.

A.A.U. President Favors Broken Time Pay To Athletes

WINNIPEG (CP) — "Broken time" payments to athletes don't violate the amateur principle in sports, G. Sydney Halter, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, said in an interview recently.

Commenting on a Canadian Press report from London on broken-time payments, Halter said such compensations, nevertheless violate rules and regulations laid down by the various governing bodies of amateur sport and by the international Olympic committee.

At the Berlin meeting of the I.O.C. in 1930, it was specified that no athlete could receive reimbursement of any sort for time lost at work because of sporting activities.

This was amended at the committee's Cairo conference in 1937, when provision was made so that actual dependents of the competitor could receive the exact amount of salary lost while participating in sports events. The sum would be paid directly by the company to the athlete's dependent. Any athlete without dependents was not subject to reimbursement.

ANTIQUATED RULES

A brief for submission to the I.O.C. on the subject of broken time payments was prepared in 1937 by a special committee of the A.A.U.C., of which Halter was chairman. The brief stated that the committee believed that the provisions with respect to broken time payments were "antiquated and unfair."

The brief was submitted to the A.A.U.C., but was never forwarded to the Olympic committee for approval.

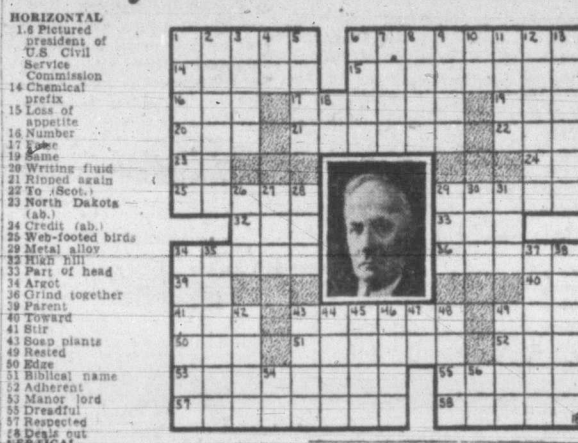

Sport, like all things changes with the times, Halter said. In bygone days it was only the "idle-rich" who participated in sports events and money was of no importance, but now all classes take part in sporting activities. If a man received financial aid to compensate time lost at work, then he should not be classed as a professional, he added.

There were many athletes today taking time out from work who didn't mind the loss in wages, but there were others who could not afford to do so. If the latter received broken time payments, Halter said, wouldn't the enthusiasm be the same in both cases?

SENIORS' GOLF

F. Rees, J. Tully, N. Rowell and E. Mackenzie-Grieve were returned winners in the Uplands Golf Club seniors' medal round. On Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, at 8 the seniors will hold a bridge tournament in the clubhouse.

British Ice Clubs Continue To Raid Canadian Market

LONDON (CP) — A one-way

traffic in hockey players from Canada to Britain is likely to continue for years. The Old Country is primed for the game but like anything else these postwar years, it is held back by shortages of raw material.

Percy Nicklin of Fort Frances, Ont., general manager of Harrington Arena, London, says there's a possibility of developing perhaps a home-bred goalkeeper, but he isn't optimistic about front lines.

His views are shared by Lou Bates of Ottawa, hockey director of London's Wembley Park, and R. J. Buck, general manager of the Falkirk rink in Scotland, but Bates isn't in entire agreement. "Give us about five years and I think we can do something with the home products," he says. "Maybe I'm optimistic, but we'll certainly try hard."

MISS NATURAL ICE

Bates, Nicklin, Buck and others think the home-breds are held back because:

1. The English or Scottish boy who wants to become a hockey player has only artificial rinks on which to practice, and for the privilege must pay nearly 50 cents each time to get out.
2. At 18 years of age, when he is primed for a hockey career, he is called up for military service.

Nicklin, who has been with Harrington since 1936, said he had a prewar school of nearly 200 British boys from which he hoped to get 10 or 11 hockey players, but the war interrupted. There now is a scheme under way in which Harrington, Wembley, Streatham (London) and Brighton rinks will hold hockey schools for youngsters.

U.S. Airlines Reduce Staffs As Boom Ends; No T.C.A. Cut
NEW YORK (AP) — Reductions in operating staffs by three airlines emphasized today the belief in air transportation circles in the United States that the boom wartime demand for plane seats has ended.
Announcing staff slashes were Pan American World Airlines, Colonial Airlines Inc., and the Pennsylvania Central-Capital Airlines.
Colonial, operating between New York, Montreal and Toronto said it had dismissed 22 of its 500 employees and a company representative gave a decline in air travel as the reason.
Travel demand dropped 22 per cent in October, and 24 per cent the first part of this month, the Colonial official said, although the demand remained 19 per cent above last year's figures.
Pennsylvania Central-Capital Airlines, operating from New York and Newark as far west as Chicago and as far south as Birmingham, announced a reduction from 10 to 15 per cent in its 5,000 employees, but made public no reason for the economy.
Earlier, Pan American had given dismissal notices to about 20 per cent of the 3,000 employees in its Atlantic division.
A spokesman attributed the action particularly to inroads made on air passenger traffic by trans-Atlantic steamships.
WINNIPEG (CP) — Officials of Trans-Canada Airlines said here today the company was not contemplating any staff reduction in the near future.

Search For Guide
SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Swamp-land bordering the western shore of Mudge Bay on Lake Huron's north channel was thoroughly searched today by a posse hunting for Stanley Richards, 43-year-old guide, missing from his bush-land shack on Manitoulin Island since Nov. 2.

LONDON (Reuter) — Seven persons were killed and nine seriously wounded in last month's mine disposal operations in the Aachen district of the British zone in Germany, the Hamburg radio said today. A total of 9,500 mines were rendered harmless.

ATHENS (AP) — Greek fighter planes and relief troops were reported today to have joined battle with guerrilla bands making their third attack in five days on Archangelos, west of ravaged Skra near the Yugoslav border.
The Greek general staff submitted to Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris "details of all attacks near the border since Oct. 1 for presentation to the British and U.S. Ambassadors to Greece."
The ambassadors, Lincoln MacVeagh of the United States and Sir Clifford Norton of Britain, were scheduled to call on Tsaldaris later today. The conference was believed connected with the government's consideration of proposals to complain to the United Nations about the activity of guerrillas who, the Greeks charge, have been supported and given refuge in border nations—Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

Britain To Take Over Coal Mines Jan. 1
LONDON (Reuter) — The state will take over Britain's coal mines Jan. 1, 1947, implementing the Nationalization Act passed by Parliament. Fuel Minister Shinwell said in the House of Commons today.
Mr. Shinwell added that he was sure the National Coal Board—which will control the industry—could count on full co-operation from the Mineworkers' Union and all those concerned in the mining industry during the "inevitable difficulties of the transitional period."

23 Die In Plane Crash
TOKYO (AP) — Fifteen military passengers and the eight-man crew of a United States army C-46 transport plane en route from Guam to Iwo Jima were killed last Saturday when the aircraft crashed into the sea about 15 miles from its destination, the U.S. Army Air Force announced today.

Typhoid In Bavaria
BERLIN (AP) — The American Military Government disclosed today that 300 Germans are ill with typhoid fever in Bavaria. Some 200 more cases are expected to develop before the outbreak is brought under control.

Retreat Follows
Irregular Start

NEW YORK (AP)—Apprehension over a possible coal mine walkout again chilled the stock market today with leaders generally depressed one to two or more points.

A little comfort was derived from the fact that liquidation never was urgent. Steels, motors, rubbers and rails were among the first to retreat after a slightly irregular opening. Extreme declines were reduced in most cases near the close.

Canadian issues were weak at midday. Hiram Walker slipped a point, Distillers Seagram 1/4 and Canadian Pacific 1/2.

Dow Jones closing averages were as follows:
30 Industrials 167.91, off 1.12
20 Rails 48.50, off 1.04
15 Utilities 35.63, off 0.23
65 Stocks 61.25, off 0.64

Total sales, 770,000.
